Matt Mille Joins Innovest Systems as Vice President of Business Development

New York, September 2, 2011 – Innovest Systems, LLC, a financial technology firm specializing in trust accounting and wealth management solutions, welcomes Matt Mille as vice president of business development. Matt will be responsible for managing new business development in the eastern United States and Canada.

Before joining Innovest, Matt held senior account executive positions at SunGard Data Systems, Inc., SEI Investments Company, Oakbrook Solutions Inc., and SS&C Technologies Holdings, Inc.

“After spending more than twenty-five years in the trust and wealth management systems business, I am thrilled to have joined Innovest where I can bring a modern-era technology-based system to a market that has been under-served by aging legacy platforms,” said Matt. “I firmly believe that too many trust and wealth management firms have settled for too little in the way of service and value from their system providers, and Innovest is raising the bar.”

“We are excited for Matt to strategically cultivate new business relationships while growing Innovest’s network of alliance partners,” said William Thomas, Innovest Systems’ chief executive officer. “With Matt’s track record and deep industry expertise, he will be a tremendous addition to the Innovest team.”
